HEALTHCARE MEDICAL

ATP has been providing medical interpretation and translation services to Healthcare providers, hospital staff, doctors and patients for the past 2 decades, in over 150 languages, with availability 24/7/365.

Our interpreters and translators accomplish a fundamental role in the complex communications between the Healthcare systems and Medical professionals to their Limited English Proficient (LEP) patients, consumers and communities.

Being a responsive, reliable and responsible language services provider enables the trust in an area often shadowed by concerns of compliance with laws and accuracy in the delivery of multilingual communications. It is our goal to exceed industry and regulatory expectations and always provide excellent customer service.

INTERPRETATION

Partnering with ATP means never worrying about language differences disrupting patient care. It is our pledge to provide our clients with the best level of language services available in the nation. Every Healthcare or Medical Interpreter goes through a thorough multiple step screening process that evaluates their language proficiency; interpreting ability; cultural sensitivity; knowledge of medical terminology; adherence to the code of ethics guidelines; HIPAA awareness; listening and comprehension of detailed instructions; and ongoing performance evaluations.

TRANSLATION

Medical translation is a very diversified field inclusive of technical, regulatory, clinical, marketing, software, pharmaceutical and other documentation that is adapted for specific target audiences in your community or around the globe. Choosing ATP's rigorous quality control standards ensure that you consistently receive the highest quality translation services available in the market.

TELEPHONIC

The most reliable means of communication is in-person interpretation. However, there are those occasions where Telephonic Interpreting is necessary, such as to set up or conduct a last-minute consultation or in an emergency situation where time is not an option.
